SIDE HUNG

The traditional side hinged window style is still very popular. These have a solid and affordable construction and is well suited for both renovation and new construction projects. Hinges as standard are delivered galvanized, but can also be delivered in stainless steel or white and can even be supplied in optional RAL colours.

Side hung can be combined with top swing or inward opening products to solve architectural challenges while staying within the same design series. Can be supplied with child restrictors, locking and non-locking handles, espag locking and if the size permits, a friction stay.
